

A winter scene featuring two people playing in a snowy field. A large, leafless tree stands in the center, its branches dusted with snow. In the foreground, a person in a brown coat and white hat is jumping, kicking up a cloud of snow. To the right, another person in a red jacket has their arms raised. In the background, a modern building is visible under a clear blue sky. A white, textured graphic element is on the right side of the image.
